

EXTRA ACTIVITY 4

STUDYING AND WORKING IN THE AVIATION WORLD

THE MEDICAL STEP

EXTRA ACTIVITY

A Class 1 medical certificate is required to operate as a commercial pilot, and general medical fitness, good eyesight, and hearing are required for any sort of flying. There are a variety of medical issues that could prevent you from pursuing a career in aviation, so get your Class 1 medical before proceeding. This will either confirm that you are physically capable of completing the program and pursuing the career, or it will reveal that you have underlying medical difficulties that may prohibit you from attaining your objectives.

SPEAKING FOLLOW-UP

- 1- What aviation related occupation interests you more?
Why?
- 2- What soft skills do you think you possess and why?
- 3- Role play with a pair!

EXTRA ACTIVITY – Read the following passage, then write your Personal Statement.

PERSONAL STATEMENT SAMPLE –

I have always been fascinated by the past, beginning with childhood interests in time travel and mythology. This interest continued with student exchanges to France and Germany, which allowed me to study 18th century French History and dictatorship and widen my historical scope. A trip to France, where I studied issues relating to World Wars, confirmed my interest in History and my decision to pursue the subject at degree level. At university, I look forward to analyzing varied interpretations of history and the original sources they are based on.

As a school prefect, I have held many responsibilities, such as organizing school events, delivering speeches and participating actively on the School Council. This experience has taught me to use my own initiative and developed my skills of public speaking and diplomacy. I also involve myself fully with the school music performances. Having played in concerts with the keyboard orchestra, I have recently taken piano lessons and gained wider awareness of music, especially Debussy and romanticism.

Playing in various school sports teams has earned me several awards including that of Sports Personality of the Year and taught me the importance of communication, teamwork and self-reliance. Organizing a series of plays and other events for the elderly was a fulfilling challenge. I also found that the experience of assisting younger people with IT and language development was extremely rewarding.

I have always enjoyed reading, but my A-level studies have recently enabled me to explore foreign literature. Brecht is particularly absorbing for his insight into the way people attempt to overcome the horrors of war.

Currently, I am helping produce a film for the European Student Travel Company concerning the career opportunities for young people in Europe. Also, I represented my school at a national selection conference for the European Youth Parliament. This venture enhanced my general knowledge and improved my teamwork, language, and debating skills, which will be particularly useful for my course at university.
